Book 1 Read-Aloud Discussion Guide

for Command & Cuddles: The Adventures of Sarge & Arwen by R. L. Sarwen

Ages 4-6 · PreK-1

The story: When the backyard gate swings open, best friends Sarge and Arwen set off on a neighborhood adventure with one rule: stay together. Along the way they race new friends, chase a runaway ball, cross a wiggly bridge, and help each other out of a tight spot. They make it home just in time, two very good dogs.

At a glance

Time: About 20 minutes (10 min reading, 10 min talk and draw)

Materials: The book, crayons, this guide

Goal: Talk about kind choices and being a good friend.

Today's Choice: Choose kindness. Be a good friend.

TEACHER NOTES

Before & During Reading

Read the book aloud in about 10 minutes. Stop 3 or 4 times to talk. Keep each stop short: one or two answers, then keep reading.

Before reading: meet the pups

Sarge

The brave little leader

Big, silly, and always hungry. Leader strength: being brave and cheering on the team. Still learning: slowing down to make a plan.

Arwen

The thoughtful little heart

Small, smart, and notices everything. Leader strength: noticing how friends feel and making a plan. Still learning: being brave enough to share ideas out loud.

- Picture walk. Show the cover and flip through a few pictures without reading. Ask: "Who do you see? Where do you think the pups are going?"
- Set a purpose. Say: "Today we will watch for kind choices. Show me a thumbs-up when you see one!"

During reading: 4 stopping points

1. Pause when the gate swings open and Arwen sets a rule for the trip. "Why is staying together a good rule for friends?"
2. Pause at a moment when Sarge heads the wrong way. "How does Sarge feel? Show me with your face. What do his friends do?"
3. Pause when the ball gets stuck. "What could Arwen do now? How can friends help?"
4. Pause when Sarge gets stuck in the play tunnel. "How do his friends help him? How would you help a friend?"

Read-aloud tips

- Use a big voice for Sarge and a quiet, careful voice for Arwen.
- Point to the pictures and let children say the sound words with you.
- Each page has a short read-aloud line, so the whole story takes about 10 minutes.

TEACHER NOTES

After Reading & Take It Home

Talk it over

- Turn and talk. Give partners this sentence frame: "I would choose ___ because ___." Ask: "Which friend made a kind choice? What kind choice can you make today?"
- Thumbs up, thumbs down. Read each sentence on the "Kind Choice or Not?" page (p. 5). Children show a thumbs-up for a kind choice, a thumbs-down for an unkind one, then circle the matching pup.
- Feelings check. Use "Show Me With Your Face" (p. 4). Name each feeling together, make the face, then ask: "When did a pup in the story feel this way?"

Follow-up page

Draw a Kind Choice (p. 6). Children draw a kind choice they can make today. They label it with a word or tell you, and you write their words on the line.

Make it fit your class

- Extra support: point to the pictures and name the feeling for them; accept pointing or one-word answers.
- Stretch: ask "What else could they have chosen?" and "What happened because of that choice?"

Take it home

Families can keep the fun going with the free Fun Zone coloring pages for ages 4-6 at commandandcuddles.com/fun-zone. No sign-up needed.

End the lesson by saying it together: "Everything is a choice we choose to make."

Keep it going this week

- Make a class chart titled "Kind Choices We Noticed." Add a paw print each time someone spots a kind choice this week.
- Revisit the story later in the week and ask: "What would Sarge and Arwen do in our classroom?"
